By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP) — The United States and France joined today in holding back efforts to move the North Atlantic allies toward big meetings with the Soviet bloc on keeping the peace in Europe.

A French spokesman said Foreign Affairs Minister Maurice Schumann agreed with Secretary of State William P. Rogers in preferring East-West negotiations among pairs or smaller groups of countries.

Britain has been pushing for at least exploratory talks with as many European countries as possible, plus the United States and Canada. Smaller North Atlantic Treaty Organization members have been supporting Britain.

Today's verbal battle occurred at the climax of a two day meeting of the North Atlantic Council. Twice a year these meetings bring together foreign ministers from the 15 countries of NATO.

time ago ordered an independent engineering study made to determine what it would cost Hope to go alone to Millwood. There have been several rough engineering studies made on this problem—the first one by Charles Thomas several years ago, but due to the possibility of the developments that would lower the cost to Hope, a detailed engineering study had not been made on the problem of building a line without assistance from other users.

The Water & Light Commission is next planning to meet with bonding company representatives to determine if the project can be financed by revenue bonds. It is assumed that at least 50 per cent of the cost can be obtained from the federal government. Representatives of the bonding companies will be asked to develop financing plans based on all alternatives, and with and without federal aid.

The Water & Light Commission requested Hawkins and Associates to continue tests on the Yellow Creek Water to determine treating problems that will be encountered. The Water & Light Commission is composed of Albert Graves, chairman; Roy Anderson, secretary; Lloyd Spencer, Robert LaGrone and Bill Tolleson.

Living Cost Is Issue in Auto Wages

DETROIT (AP) — The cost of living may turn out to be the No. 1 stumbling block in this year's new contract negotiations in the automotive industry.

The issue will be how closely wages should be tied to the government's consumer price index. This issue alone could trigger a major strike.

A cost-of-living formula has, since its inception in the 1948 automotive contracts, added 97 cents to what now is an average hourly rate of $4.02 at the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

After a seven-week strike at Ford in 1967, the companies won a formula change that limits cost-of-living increases to eight cents an hour in any year.

Vietnam and Cambodia Restore Ties

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam and Cambodia announced today they have agreed to reestablish diplomatic relations and exchange ambassadors.

The announcement was made at the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry after meetings between Cambodian Foreign Minister Yem Sambaur and officials of the Saigon government.

Diplomatic relations between the two countries were broken in 1964 because of a series of border incidents. Moves toward a resumption began after Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, was deposed on March 18, and the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces in Cambodia inflicted a series of defeats on the Cambodian Army.

Sambaur arrived in Saigon Monday, and a communique announcing the resumption of diplomatic relations was expected Tuesday. But the announcement apparently was delayed a day by discussion of disputed offshore islands in the Gulf of Siam and the handling of ethnic nationals of each country living in the other.

Expressway at L.R. Is Rejected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal Bureau of Public Roads says Little Rock's East-West Expressway cannot be included in the interstate highway system at this time.

The state Highway Commission had asked to have the Expressway included in the interstate system so it would be eligible for federal matching funds on a 90-10 basis. Only one mile of the proposed 7.4-mile Expressway has been completed and the Commission says it doesn't have enough state funds to continue construction.

Rex C. Leathers of Little Rock, division engineer of the bureau said in a letter to Highway Director Ward Goodman that "all mileage has been allocated and none is available for the addition or extension of routes."

Leathers said, however, that the commission's request is being held for "future consideration if and when mileage becomes available."

Commission Chairman Turman Baker said Tuesday that despite Leathers' statement, the commission was optimistic that the Expressway would be included in the interstate system. Baker said the commission had been told that two or three states might turn back some of their allocation of interstate road mileage.

CITY MANAGER (from page one)

a proclamation calling for an election on the proposal to be held Tuesday, July 14.

The board of directors received the audit report of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company, covering city operations for the year 1969.

In other action the Board approved payment of $2,764.50 to the Arkansas Planning Commission for completion of a comprehensive plan of community development being done under a Federal Planning grant which was started about one year ago. This payment will be matched by $8,295.50 in federal funds. The planning is being done by Mr. Thomas L. Hodges, of Urban Planning & Development Consultants, Inc. of Little Rock, under the direction of the Arkansas State Planning Commission. This covers the final phase of planning and provides a complete analysis of existing conditions in the community, including housing, streets and roads, drainage, and a complete study of local economy, together with a plan for future development of all community facilities.

The directors reviewed a survey prepared by Charles E. Webb on 132 acres of land in the airport area that is being considered as a site for a large industry, also an appraisal of the property prepared by Charles Wilburn. The appraisal and survey contain information requested by the Federal Aviation Administration before they would consider a proposal to permit the land to be used for industrial development. The proposal for industrial development will be presented to the Federal Aviation Administration.

A group of women, representing the Jr. Auxiliary attended the meeting to study the operation of the City Government, as part of a program the organization has for studying civic affairs.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset Lt. Governor Crow Visits Local Club

Kiwanian F.C. Crow, Lieutenant Governor, Division XXIV, Mo-Ark District of Kiwanis International, made his official visit to his home club at Tuesday's meeting. A Lieutenant Governor is required to visit each of the clubs in his division. Mr. Crow has made most of his official club visits.

In his address to the local club he reviewed some of the reasons men join civic clubs, such as fellowship, business reasons, and a desire to render community service by combining ones efforts with the efforts of other like-minded men. He said, "There are many types of men who join service clubs, but the most desirable and sought after are those who are open and above board, who don't travel under false colors; those who have a sense of values; those who are happy and contented with a genuine desire to serve others; and those who live Godly lives."

Age of Moon Rock Estimated to Be 4 Billion Years

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A rock which may date from the birth of the solar system has been found among the moon samples brought to earth by Apollo 12, officials here say.

The rock, about the size of a lemon, "has an apparent age of 4.6 billion years, clearly the oldest rock yet found on the moon," and older than any rock found on earth, the officials said.

Some meteorites, which land on the earth and moon from space, have been found to be 4.5 to 4.6 billion years old, but the Apollo 12 rock is the oldest ever discovered to be native to the earth or to the moon.

"To discover a rock on a planet that is the same age as the planet is very significant," Dr. Paul Gast, chief of lunar and earth sciences at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said Tuesday. The find indicates that the surface layers of the moon have changed very little since the formation of the solar system, he added.

He said the rock has about 20 times as much uranium, thorium, and potassium as any other lunar rock examined. He said its natural radiation, which is harmless, is also much higher than the other rocks.

Gast said tests will be conducted on the rock to determine if it contains the decay product of iodine 129 a short-lived and now extinct isotope which is thought to have been produced during the birth of the solar system.

Since meteorites also contain decayed iodine 129, he said, the origin of the moon and the meteorites would be linked.

"It would support the present theory that all the planets were formed at the same time," he said.

Anthony J. Callo, director of science and applications at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the rock looked no different from the others in the Apollo 12 moon samples.

He said the unique nature of the rock was discovered when scientists processed it through the radiation counting laboratory. Its high degree of natural radiation caused the scientists to set it aside for a closer look.

LETTER FROM A SERVICE-MAN FOR VETERANS' DAY

Dear Helen: The following message appeared in our Air Force newspaper. I thought it might be appropriate for Veterans' Day.

WHAT IS AN AMERICAN?

He is the fellow who yells for the government to balance the budget, then takes his last dime to make a down payment on a car.

He whips his enemy, then gives him the shirt off his back. He yells for speed laws to stop fast driving, then won't buy a car if it can't go over 100 miles per hour.

He knows the line-up of every baseball team in the American and National Leagues, and yet stumbles through half the words of the Star Spangled Banner.

He'll spend half a day looking for vitamins to make him live longer, then drive 90 miles an hour on slick pavement to make up for his lost time.

He ties his dog up, but lets his 16-year-old son do whatever he wants.

He'll work hard on the farm so he can move into the city where he can make more money so he can afford to move back to the farm.

He couldn't fight his way out of a paper bag, but he spends $20.00 for ringside seats and tells the professionals how to fight.

We're the country that has more food to eat than any other in the world, and we have more diets to keep us from eating.

We're the most ambitious people on earth and we run from morning 'til night trying to keep our earning power up with our yearning power.

We're supposed to be the most civilized nation on earth, but we still can't deliver payrolls without an armored car.

But you know, sitting here in Vietnam, I think we're still pretty nice folks. Calling a person a "real American" is the best compliment you can pay him. Most of the world is itching for what we have, but they will never have it until they start scratching for it individually in each country.—RELAYED FROM VIETNAM BY U.S. AIR FORCE SGT. JOSEPH ANNANDONO

Dear Helen: It was wonderful how the crew of Apollo 13 returned safely to earth. But I'm puzzled about one thing:

Why do we declare national prayer only when there is impending tragedy? Don't we know God the rest of the time? And why, when God DID answer our prayers for the astronauts, wasn't He also just as publicly thanked?

This reminds me of a friend of mine who complains that most of his friends only call on him when they want something, then forget him until the next time they need his help. I wonder how God feels about it?

Lastly, we all prayed and waited and prayed some more for the safe return of Apollo 13. The whole world was united in worry, and for a while we became one people with a common hope. Why can't we do the same thing for the men in Vietnam? Why not declare more national prayer ers for them? They're in danger, they're facing death, and they need our united prayers more than our dissension that tears the country in two.

Doesn't it look like we need to pray more than just a minute at a designated time, especially with the world in its present condition?—TEEN-AGER

Dear Teen-ager: Thanks for your fine letter: A national prayer for peace—and every day! How much better than rioting. And how much faster it would reach the Right Ears.—H.

Stock Index Falls to 631, 1962 Level

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower Tuesday after bouncing around in one of the heaviest trading sessions of the year.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 10.20 to 631.16, a 1.59 per cent drop. This is the lowest closing level since Nov. 19, 1962, when the Dow average ended at 626.21.

Volume on the big board was 17.03 million shares, slightly under the 1970 record turnover on March 25, when 17.5 million shares changed hands.

Declines led advances by almost a 3-1 margin. There were 943 new lows, a record for the year. Two new highs were registered.

The Dow Jones average opened lower, spurred ahead during a midsession rally, then traced a zigzag downward pattern toward the close.

Analysts said the market action was illustrative of its current confusion, with technical factors and occasional constructive news struggling to offset the general pessimism that appears to shroud the market.

Pessimism is based on concern over inflation, rising unemployment and lower corporate profits as well as widespread uneasiness over developments in Southeast Asia and the Middle East, analysts said. Prices on the American Stock Exchange fell to their lowest level in close to three years.

N.Y. News Pact Like the Times'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily News has reached a tentative agreement with printers of Typographical Union No. 6 which would provide salary increases of 41.69 per cent over a three-year contract period.

The agreement follows one reached with the New York Times Sunday and was announced Tuesday after a four hour meeting of union representatives with News management.

Meanwhile, Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of The Times, announced the newsstand price of the paper would go from 10 to 15 cents effective June 1. Advertising rates would also be increased an average of 14 cents a line August 1, he said.

In addition, Sulzberger said the price of the Sunday edition would be increased to 75 cents for locations outside the city and Long Island, but within a 200-mile radius. He said he regretted the cost increases but said there was "no alternative."

W. T. James, president of the News, called the settlement "excessive."

'Indy 500' Up to 10 or 12 Drivers

EDITORS:

Lloyd Ruby, who will compete in his 11th Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Saturday, rates the competition in the third in a series of five articles written for The Associated Press. In future articles, he will tell what he thinks about during the race and his future plans.

By LLOYD RUBY

Written for

The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — I figure 10 or 12 drivers are capable of winning the Indianapolis 500 this race, even though there are 33 guys right now who think they can win the race or else they wouldn't even be in the starting field.

But I really feel there are only 10 or 12 individuals who will be competitive as long as their equipment holds up. In that respect, I think my car is stronger than any car here.

The guys I think will be competitive right from the start are Al Unser and his brother Bobby, who won the race in 1968; A. J. Foyt, a three-time winner at Indy and one of the sport's greatest competitors; Mario Andretti, last year's winner; Roger McCluskey; Joe Leonard, who still holds the track qualifying record; Gordon Johncock, Johnny Rutherford, Art Pollard and Dan Gurney.

The Unsers, Foyt, Andretti and McCluskey always charge. They like to run up front and always make an effort to get there. I figure these guys will be fighting it out up front while I'm trying to get up there with them from 25th starting position.

I'll tell you, I enjoy racing Al, A.J. and Roger any time, especially at Indy. I don't mind running with these three guys side by side flat out all day long. I have a lot of confidence in their ability.

I think Leonard will be a factor this year. He has top equipment. Johncock hasn't done anything spectacular so far this month but he always comes on strong in the race. Rutherford is starting on the front row this time, but I really don't know what he'll do. Pollard could be a factor and it's hard to say what Gurney will do with the new equipment he brought this year.

The worst problem I can foresee in the race is the guys whose equipment won't be capable of maintaining the pace. There's a tendency to overextend yourself when your equipment isn't up to it.

That causes problems. You don't have to ask for trouble here... you automatically get it. Without the experience of running in the oil after the track gets slick, many guys will find themselves in trouble real quick.

But everybody has to run on the same race track and I don't mean to make bad remarks about rookies or guys with little experience getting in the way. The guys running in their second or third race are the same guys who will be running at the front in a few years. After all, the drivers starting up front Saturday are the same guys who were getting in everybody's way a few years back. I probably did it myself. Naturally, I didn't thin so at the time.

Stars Absent, Memphis Play Is Wide Open

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
MEMPHIS (AP) — The absence of many of golf's top names left a wide-open, multiple-man scramble for the favorite's role in the $150,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Open.

Gary Player, the number two man on the money list this year, has gone home to South Africa. And the three career $1 million winners on the tour—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper—also are skipping the event that starts Thursday.

With those giants out, there is a flock of prime candidates for the $30,000 first prize, including Lee Trevino, Frank Beard, Dave Hill, Dan Sikes, Tommy Aaron, Homero Blancas, Gene Littler, Miller Barber, Don January, Bob Lunn and Lee Elder.

All are top contenders, but the outspoken Hill may be the No. 1 choice on what he calls one of his favorite courses. He has won twice the last three titles here, including the last one.

"I just seem to put good on these greens," he said after a practice round Tuesday. "If they'd let me carry these greens around with me on tour everybody else would be playing for second place every week."

Blancas, Barber, January, and Lunn all have scored victories this year. Little always is dangerous and has finished second twice this season, while the slow-starting Elder played well here last year and appeared to have snapped a lengthy slump last week in the Atlanta Classic.

As always, the fast-talking Trevino is a distinct threat. He's back from a rare week off, has won twice this season and is the only man to go over $100,000 in money winnings this year.

Aaron ended a frustrating 10-year search for a title last week when he scored his first official triumph at Atlanta.

Sikes finished second and said he thinks he has solved a year-long slump, while Beard won the Tournament of Champions and appears to have regained the form that made him the 1969 leading money winner.

Also on hand are U.S. Open Champion Orville Moody, British Open champ Tony Jacklin and PGA titleholder Ray Floyd. Only a handful in the 150-man field got in practice rounds on the relatively short 6,466-yard, par-70 Colonial Country Club Course Tuesday.

Most of the rest were undergoing local qualifying for the U.S. Open.

Booster Club Calls Meeting

The Hope Booster Club will have a special meeting at the High School Tuesday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Higgins has some important items to bring before the club and there will be an election of officers for the coming year. All members and interested persons are urged to attend this meeting, according to Dick Moore, President.

A two-run double in the first, doubled again in the sixth after a homer by Aurelio Rodriguez and scored on Ed Stroud's single for a 7-3 bulge.

Pitcher Jim Kaat posted his fifth victory, drove in a run and scored the deciding run from first on a single as the Twins beat the Brewers. Kaat added another hit and scored another run as he upped his record to 5-1. Cesar Tovar homered for the Twins, Danny Walton and Tom Harper for the Brewers.

The Angels remained one game behind Minnesota in the AL West as Bill Voss hammered a tie-breaking two-run double in the seventh inning. Voss' hit followed a single by Jim Spencer and a walk to Ken McMullen, who accounted for the Angels' first two runs with a second-inning homer. Reggie Jackson connected for the A's.

The Orioles opened a 7 1/2-game spread over the Yankees in the AL East as Jim Hardin blanked Cleveland on five hits and Chico Salmon rapped four singles. Boog Powell drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a single.

Willie Horton's three-run homer in the ninth inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between Earl Wilson of the Tigers and Mel Stottlemyre of the Yankees. Both hurled four-hitters. Horton, who also hit a three-run shot Monday night, connected following a walk to pinch hitter Gates Brown. Al Kaline's sacrifice and an intentional walk to Norm Cash.

The White Sox took a 3-0 lead over the Royals, one of the runs coming on Ossie Blanco's first major league hit, before Wilbur Wood snuffed out a seventh-inning uprising to preserve Jerry Janeski's fourth victory.

Kuhn Called to Testify by Flood

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was to be the leadoff man for the defense today in Curt Flood's $3 million anti-trust suit against baseball.

Kuhn's appearance will mark the start of the second half of the case before Judge Irving Oen Cooper in Federal Court. It is expected to continue for at least another week.

After calling 10 witnesses in five days, including Flood, Hall of Famers Jackie Robinson and Hank Greenberg and the commissioners of pro football, basketball and hockey, the defense rested Tuesday.

Motions by Mark Hughes, baseball's chief lawyer, to dismiss the case, were denied by Judge Cooper who ordered the case to continue "until all the evidence has been adduced."

Flood, former St. Louis Cardinal center fielder who refused to accept a trade to Philadelphia, is charging baseball with violations of federal and various state antitrust laws and common law and claims the reserve system constitutes "peonage and involuntary servitude" and deprives him of the freedom of labor.

Hughes claimed Flood's lawyers had failed to prove the peonage and slavery charges and insisted it had not shown a violation of antitrust laws.

Jay Topkis, speaking for Flood in the absence of Arthur Goldberg, his chief attorney, asked the case be continued to learn "what kind of an explanation can baseball come up with to explain its fantastic system of regimentation."

Topkis praised Flood's sacrifice of refusing to play because his "freedom is worth more." He added, "I don't think this is a claim to which an American Court can turn a deaf ear."

Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, said his sport did not have a play-out-the-option clause, like pro football. He said the NBA did allow a player under contract for one year to play a second year without a contract while negotiations are going on. He said some players had "jumped contracts" and signed with the rival American Basketball Association.

Kennedy said there had been only one contract, in his recollection, in which a player was given the right of veto power over a trade. That was Oscar Robertson's contract with Cincinnati.

The structure of professional hockey was reviewed by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, and Alan Eagleson, executive director of the NHL players' association.

Eagleson said a hockey player's contract was "for life" but some super stars has special no trade or no cut contracts. Campbell said any such special clauses were not recognized by the league and were private agreements between player and owner.

Campbell said contract disputes between players and owners always had gone to him for a final decision in the past but a new procedure had been worked out this year to set up arbitration. He said no cases had gone to arbitration yet.

The NHL president said a player control arrangement was essential to hockey because "if it were not for that assurance

Padres Whip Cincinnati in Twin Bill

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
By the time the hunters finally caught up with Clarence Gaston and Nate Colbert, the hounds had Charlie Fox by the throat.

Gaston lashed six straight hits, including two triples and a three-run homer, before Cincinnati got him out and Colbert walloped a pair of two-run homers before a stray pitch knocked him out as the San Diego Padres stunned the Reds 8-1 and 4-1 in a Tuesday night doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, brought Fox, San Francisco's new manager crashing to earth with a 20-hit salvo that rattled the Giants 19-3.

It was the Dodgers' biggest offensive binge and the worst beating absorbed by the Giants since both clubs moved to the West Coast in 1958. And it was a shattering experience for Fox, following the Giants' doubleheader sweep over San Diego last Sunday in his managerial debut.

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped Montreal 3-2; Atlanta beat Houston 5-3; the New York Mets trimmed St. Louis 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs downed Pittsburgh 6-3.

In American League play, Baltimore whipped Cleveland 7-0; Detroit topped the New York Yankees 3-0; Washington shaded Boston 7-5; Minnesota defeated Milwaukee 6-2; California beat Oakland 4-2 and the Chicago White Sox took Kansas City 3-1.

Gaston, a .230 hitter for the Padres last year as a rookie, banged triples in the first and fifth innings of the opener. Each time, Colbert followed with a homer off Cincinnati pitching ace Jim Merritt, giving him 16 for the season and a share of the major league lead.

Two singles by Gaston and a three-run homer by Ollie Brown helped the Padres' Mike Corkins even his pitching record at 4-4 while Merritt slipped to 9-3.

In the first inning of the nightcap, Gaston sent the Padres ahead to stay with his three-run blast off Pedro Borbon, who was making his first start in the majors. Borbon then hit Colbert on the right cheekbone with a pitch, finishing the San Diego slugger for the rest of the night.

Colbert lay dazed for about 30 seconds, then got up and started toward Borbon, but was restrained by teammates. He was sent to a hospital for X-rays, which proved negative.

After Borbon was brushed back by a Danny Coombs pitch in the third, creating a mob scene on the field as both benches emptied, Gaston singled in the bottom half for his sixth consecutive hit in the twin bill and seventh in a row going back to a ninth inning single Monday night against the Reds.

The San Diego outfielder's streak ended three short of the NL record when reliever Clay Carroll retired him in the fifth, but he finished the night with a .342 batting average . . . eighth best in the league.

Pitcher Claude Osteen led the Dodgers' assault on five San Francisco pitchers with two singles, a double and a homer good for no more than that kind of money.

Campbell said each NHL club lost about $200,000 on player development and the league as an entity backed amateur hockey with an $800,000 subsidy. He said a universal amateur draft had been established in which between 75 and 85 players are selected each year.

Major Leaguer Gets Small Thanks From Little League Coach

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex., (AP) — Bobby Bragan, Texas League president and former major league manager, discovered recently the perils of trying to pass on a few tips in the little league.

He arrived to make a presentation to nine and 10-year-old boys on a kiddy team. Getting there a bit early, Bragan organized an infield practice and passed out a few tips and shouted some advice.

A coach of one of the teams arrived and demanded "Who's that out there with my boys?"

"That's Bobby Bragan," someone said.

"Well, I don't know who he is," the coach grumbled. "But one thing's for sure—he doesn't know a thing about baseball. I've been working with these boys a month, and he's tearing down everything we have accomplished!"

Finn Wins Mexico City Auto Rally

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Driver Hannu Mikkola of Finland was the unofficial winner of the London-Mexico Auto Rally, officials of the Rally here announced early today.

Twenty-one cars arrived Tuesday night at Fortín de las Flores, Veracruz state. They left at noon Tuesday from San Salvador to Mexico.

They will leave at noon today for Mexico City in the last lap of the Rally of 332 kilometers. They are expected to arrive at the finish line in Aztec Stadium late in the afternoon.

The first car to arrive at Fortín de las Flores was that driven by Rauno Aaltonen of Finland.

Officials of the Rally said they were computing the times of the competitors and the winner will be officially announced later today.

Twenty-one cars finished the grueling 16,000-mile Rally out of the 96 which set out from London's Wembley Stadium April 19.

Mikkola who celebrated his birthday at the wheel of his Ford Escort three days ago in Panama, was quoted as saying today: "This was the toughest drive of my life—I feel great."

The Daily Mirror newspaper in London organized the event.

Mikkola, 28, and his Swedish co-driver Gunnar Palm, 33, spearheaded the achievements of the Ford Escorts which finished first, third, fifth and sixth, the organizer said.

Second place overall went to Brian Culbreth in a Triumph 2.5 PI followed by Aaltonen in another Ford Escort, according to Rally officials.

Senate Tries for White House Peace

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate

Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Cambodia could render moot—or unnecessary—an amendment to halt spending for American operations there. But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the issue "cannot and will not be avoided."

Scott said he considers a Senate vote likely by June 15. He said by that time, he expects most American troops will be out of Cambodia.

"It would seem to me that it would moot the thrust of the amendment," Scott said.

But Mansfield said the Senate will vote on the legislation even if action is stalled until June 30, President Nixon's Cambodian withdrawal deadline. He said the amendment would bar any future incursions into Cambodia by U.S. forces.

Mansfield said opponents of the amendment will be making a serious mistake if they delay action "on this issue which cannot and will not be avoided."

The Senate Tuesday adopted phrasing 82 to 11 declaring the proposed June 30 cutoff of spending for U.S. military activities in Cambodia to be in support of Nixon's announced withdrawal timetable.

But the impact of the vote was negligible with no sign the White House would ease its stand against the main amendment sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

$1,000 Per Day Cost at Hospitals?

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prediction that hospital costs will reach $1,000 per day in the nation's major cities in 10 years has spurred new efforts in the Senate Finance Committee to put reins on Medicare and Medicaid outlays.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., told a reporter as committee hearings resumed Tuesday, "We must find some effective way to control these costs."

"They affect all segments of the health industry—physicians, hospitals, nursing homes, and other providers of services."

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the panel, said he feared the spiraling costs of the two big health programs could affect the solvency of the federal government.

Ribicoff said the prediction about 1980 costs were made by highly competent sources—Mark Berke of San Francisco, former president of the American Hospital Association, and Dr. Philip Lee, former assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs in the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

He said they forecast daily costs of $400 in rural areas, $600 in medium-size cities, and $1,000 in major urban centers.

The $1,000 figure would be almost 10 times the highest rate now, even in New York City.

Jack A. L. Hahn of Indianapolis, AHA president-elect, disagreed that hospital costs would reach such heights in the next decade except in very special situations.

However, Hahn conceded costs were going to continue to increase sharply. AHA studies show that the average cost will likely reach $119.50 in 1973 compared with $81.66 per inpatient day this year, he told the panel.

When asked if the average person would pay such fees, Hahn said he did not believe the individual could do so.

"He is going to have to spread the costs over his entire lifetime through some form of insurance and they are going to have to be spread over all of society," he said.

Hahn said hospitals are particularly vulnerable to cost hikes because of their intensive use of labor and the need to purchase advanced and extremely expensive equipment.

One way to help old people, the AHA spokesman said, would be to combine the hospitalization and doctors' services of Medicare and eliminate the monthly fee charge for the latter. This fee, now $4, goes up to $5.30 July 1.

If this were done, however, the payroll tax which now finances only hospitalization services would have to be raised.

Star of Course in Weaving at Spa Is 86-Year-Old Woman

By STEVE NICHOLS

Hot Springs Sentinel-Record
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—She's 86 years young and a ball of fire.

At least that's what her many friends and associates at the Neighborhood Senior Citizen's Center call her.

Her name is Mrs. Dorothy Sharkey, originally from Philadelphia, who came to Hot Springs in 1960.

Mrs. Sharkey probably is one of the few remaining proponents of the art of weaving, which she teaches at the Center once a week. She also teaches knitting and crocheting.

Right now she's working on some rag rugs and rag carpets for one of the performers in the movie, "The Sporting Club," recently filmed in Hot Springs.

William Roerick, who played the owner of "The Sporting Club" in the film, asked around for someone who could weave some rugs and carpets in the original style for an old farm house in Tyringham, Mass., which he had just finished. The Fabric Center directed him to Mrs. Sharkey. The order includes carpets for alcove and stairs and bathroom.

Mrs. Sharkey began weaving about 15-20 years ago, she says. A minister friend gave her an old loom, some other friends helped her to set it up and she's been weaving ever since. She makes place mats, guest towels, sideboard cover rugs, and a variety of other articles.

Mrs. Sharkey graduated from art school in 1904 but it was just two years ago that she started painting in oils. Her first effort was a self-portrait from a photograph of herself in her grandmother's Quaker bonnet. There is quite a demand for her paintings of birds and landscapes and she admits to "taking painting," "as much as waving."

That's not the half of it. Mrs. Sharkey also does ceramics and last winter made a set of original goat head plaques, which were given as trophies at goat shows locally and in California.

In case you're wondering how goats come into the picture,

Security Troop Stay Is Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. troops assigned to security duty in Vietnam are likely to be involved in ground fighting even after the formal American combat role ends next year.

Pentagon officials say the security troops probably will conduct roving patrols into the countryside in guarding bases where U.S. support forces are located.

Where such patrols make contact with the enemy, fighting is likely to follow.

Nixon administration officials have not yet explained publicly what the security troops will be doing—and the risks they will be running in guarding the support forces.

These officials are aware many Americans may have the impression the security units will not be involved in fire fights, that American troops will stop taking casualties, and that all the U.S. forces still in Vietnam next year will withdraw into fortified enclaves.

Pentagon officials say they will attempt to prepare the public, before this switch over from combat to support role, for the likelihood of some further fighting and dying by Americans.

Lebanese Put Off Call for Arab Aid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TEL AVIV (AP) — The Lebanese Cabinet put off today a decision on whether to ask Morocco and Tunisia for help in defending Lebanon from Israeli attacks and instead will crack down on guerrillas operating in southern Lebanon.

The decision came as Arab-Israeli fighting flared on two other fronts, those of Jordan and Egypt. At the same time, an Israeli patrol entered southern Lebanon for the third straight day of action against Arab guerrillas.

Ministerial sources in Beirut said that beginning June 16 the Lebanese army will be empowered to shoot at any Arab guerrillas firing from Lebanon across the border into Israel.

Ministers also agreed that the army may fire on any Arab commando carrying a weapon in any Lebanese town or city.

Premier Rashid Karami told Parliament Tuesday he was considering asking Morocco and Tunisia to send troops to help Lebanon defend its southern border against repeated Israeli attacks.

Today's decision at the weekly Cabinet session means that no action will be taken on an appeal to the two Arab countries at least until results of the new measures against guerrillas as assessed.

Israeli newspapers quoted De-sense Minister Moshe Dayan today as saying a confrontation between Israel and Soviet forces on the Suez Canal "is only a hairbreadth away."

But he apparently added that the two sides will avoid a direct confrontation probably "for a long time."

Drug-Control Office Set for State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An office to coordinate programs to combat the drug problem in Arkansas will be opened soon under the state Crime Commission.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller made the announcement Tuesday and said the office would begin operations as soon as the Justice Department approves the comprehensive plan of the state Crime Commission.

The governor said the office would coordinate the efforts of state agencies in a comprehensive approach to drug abuse detection, prevention education, treatment and rehabilitation. He also said the office would seek the help of business, professional and civic groups in implementation of the program.

Some sharp repartee in the Mechanical Department:
One of our two Japanese-built Morisawa machines which compose headlines and advertisements developed a malfunction this morning, and after making the necessary adjustments Mech. Supt. Billy Dan Jones voiced the opinion he was thinking of sending the shop girls to the Jap factory—on a one-way ticket.

He was rewarded with slanted looks.

The machines may be of Japanese origin but they are imported and serviced by Fairchild Graphic Equipment, a division of Fairchild Camera & Instrument—and they are as good as our press, which Fairchild built at Joplin, Mo. They are photo machines, exposing headlines and advertising copy on sensitized paper or film—the same system to which The Star is switching shortly on its straight news text, presently composed on automatic typewriters called Just-O-Writers.

After we went to press yesterday the Compugraphic Corporation's Atlanta (Ga.) regional office telephoned us that their installation man would be here Monday, June 1, to set up our two new computerized phototypesetters.

One of the machines is already here, the other due in a day or two.

So it seems probable we will make the switch-over from strike-on typewriter type to photo type some time next week.

The switch-over involves no special problems as the machines are shipped fully assembled and only require monitoring to make sure the start-up is O.K.

Nevertheless the presence of computers in each machine requires a careful checking of our electrical circuits, which Alvin Gordon is undertaking. For instance, the computer system requires a lone line clear back to the main power panel. If any other electrical device, such as a telegraph machine, happened to be on the same power circuit there is a chance of a feed-back which would garble the computer's signals.

We already have a solo line, but since there are two of the new machines we are installing a second "solo" against the chance that one computerized machine might interfere with the other.

It's a good deal like the caution against using a transistorized radio or tape-recorder aboard an airliner—because it may play hob with the pilot's navigational instruments. You might make yourself liable for sending your New York-bound plane to Cuba — without the help of hijackers.

Lawmen Are Target of Rioters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told a group of law enforcement officers that they were the immediate and primary target of law violators, subversives and revolutionaries.

Speaking to the graduating class of the FBI national academy, McClellan said, "It is you who must bear the brunt of the verbal and physical attack of those who seek to destroy our system."

"McClellan said dissent is a 'precious right but peaceful civil disobedience is an illusion.'"

He said that flouting society's rules brings on a confrontation with authority and escalates into violence.

"While some who do it may be sincere, the technique is a characteristic tool of those seeking to overthrow our Republic," he said.

He told the officers that the "forces of right, decency and law and order are supporting you in this war on crime, a war that can and must be won."

Oregon Turns Down 19-Year-Old Voting

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon voters refused Tuesday to lower the voting age to 19. Advocates of the change said community reaction to campus troubles was responsible.

"I have to admit that bitterness is my gut reaction," said Earl Blumenauer, 21, chairman of the campaign.

Nearly two-thirds of the voters rejected the age change. More than half of the state's one million voters went to the polls.

Gov. Tom McCall said he was sorry and so did State Treasurer Robert Straub, both of whom campaigned for the 19-year-old vote.

McCall had envisioned the outcome earlier when his office was flooded with letters of protests to campus disturbances.

"The 19-year-old vote is down the drain," he said as he observed reaction to the Portland police riot squad moving onto the Portland State University campus to end a demonstration.

Blumenauer, a senior at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, said: "The same backlash that we experienced will be felt in Congress." He predicted failure of any federal effort to lower the voting age.

McCall won renomination with ease and Straub won the Democratic nomination to oppose him. This set up a replay of the 1966 gubernatorial contest when McCall, then secretary of state, beat Straub by 70,000 votes despite a Democratic registration edge of more than 100,000.

Two of the state's four congressmen had no opposition for renomination, and the other two won handily.

A proposed new state constitution was defeated by about the same margin as the referendum on the 19-year-old vote, but authority to issue pollution control bonds carried handily.

Cutie-Pie Has Some Harsh Words to Say About Sex Kittens

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Bisset is the kind of girl a man would turn to look at twice even if he were fleeing a sinking ship.

But attractive as she is with her striking figure, copper-brown hair and 250-watt, gray-green eyes, Miss Bisset, one of the most rapidly rising young international film stars, has no desire to be billed as a sex image.

"I don't think of myself as that at all," she said. "When they tell me to be sexy in a photograph, I don't know what they mean."

"Do they mean you should hike your skirt up or stick your tongue out? It's ridiculous."

"What makes a person sexy is liking the opposite sex. It's more mental than physical. There are a lot of birds around who dress in a sexy fashion, but who aren't at all sexy in their minds. They are just doing a narcissistic trick in their heads."

"A Frenchwoman, even if plain, is attractive because she is aware of being a woman and feels like a woman. That makes a man feel more masculine."

During a brief career as a London model, Jackie—as her friends know her now—had such nicknames as "Jackson," "The Biscuit," and "B.B.B." for "big-bottomed broad."

"But they can't call me by the last one now—that's gone," said Miss Bisset, with the pleasant complacency of a girl who tapes in at 36-24-36.

U.S. Market Drop Shakes Up World

By JOHN HENRY
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market plunge in this country is sending tremors through most of the world's major financial markets.

The London stock market dropped Tuesday to its lowest level in three years. The Financial Times index dropped 13.8 points to 315.5, last reached in March 1967. Nearly all industrial leaders showed losses.

British financial writers called the slump on the London market "Black Tuesday" and blamed falling prices entirely on New York.

Meanwhile, the market in the United States took another drubbing Tuesday that sent the Dow Jones Industrial average of 30 stocks down 10.20 points, to 631.16, its lowest level since Nov. 19, 1962. The loss meant that the blue-chip indicator had plummeted over 70 points in the last five sessions.

In Toronto, the stock market touched a four year low Tuesday, with Industrials off 3.67 at 141.61. Prices on the exchange Monday had suffered their sharpest drop since 1963.

The Montreal stock market closed lower although the declines were considerably less than those recorded Monday when the industrial index plunged more than six points to a three year low. Financial analysts blamed the slide in good measure on the crisis in Wall Street.

Stocks on the Paris Bourse fell over a wide range, and continued to do so despite a statement of confidence by the French finance minister.

"Wall Street is in full disarray," said the evening paper Paris Presse. It added that a mere stock exchange crisis had developed into a crisis of confidence in the Nixon administration.

Nixon Calls Parley on Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned financial and business leaders from across the nation to a White House dinner tonight in an effort to calm their fears about the sluggish economy and explain the U.S. move into Cambodia.

A White House spokesman said plans for the dinner were laid after Nixon met last week with Bernard Lasker, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange.

He announced the session Tuesday during a day of mixed economic news that varied between a stock market plunge to its lowest level in 7½ years and a Labor Department report that wholesale prices are rising less than last year.

On Capitol Hill, a House subcommittee voted 5-1 along party lines to require Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors to set wage and price guidelines each year and require Nixon to set up a watchdog agency to oversee them.

In addition, the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation predicted the federal budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, will show a $4.5 billion deficit instead of the administration's projected $1.3 billion even if all the Nixon's revenue-producing measures take effect.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved the administration's request for an $18 billion increase in the national debt ceiling to $395 billion.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Lasker told Nixon last week the Cambodia decision was widely misunderstood. Some analysts think doubts over administration policies have contributed to the sharp drop in the market.

The Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks plunged 10.20 points Tuesday to 631.16, the lowest since Nov. 19, 1962. It fell 20 points Monday and is more than 90 points under April 28, when Nixon told a group of visiting businessmen he would be buying stock if he had any money.

The House subcommittee on executive reorganization approved a bill sprinkled with the commanding word "shall," but Nixon and his economic spokesmen have said repeatedly they want nothing to do with formal wage-price guidelines. They contend the method failed during the Johnson administration and has been less than completely successful in European countries.

Nonetheless there have been recent chinks in the government armor, most notably when Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said an "incomes policy"—which some observers took to mean some form of persuasion—might make a modest contribution to curbing inflation.

And George Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, recommended a presidential committee be set up to draw public attention to wage and price increases the administration thinks are inflationary.

Rockefeller Holds Back on Plans

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller apparently will not announce his political plans until the final two weeks before the filing deadline.

Rockefeller said Tuesday night that he would not reveal his plans this week. The filing deadline is June 16.

Rockefeller had said he would announce whether he would seek a third term after returning from a tour of France. He returned from the trip early this week.

The governor was also asked during a question-and-answer session at Westark Junior College whether his plans would be influenced by the decisions of any potential democratic candidates.

"Not one iota," Rockefeller said, adding, "Some might be more fun than others."

Russia Angry at China Coup in SE Asia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Soviet fury over Red China's initiatives in Indochina leaves the impression that the Russians feel they have been outsmarted and fear that Peking stands to be the long-term and perhaps only beneficiary of events in Cambodia.

Though they may glean consolation from the difficulties Cambodia has created for Washington, the Russians may look upon the turn of events in Indochina as a disaster of sorts for Moscow, too.

While the Kremlin hung back indecisively after the overthrow of Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Peking acted swiftly to capitalize on the situation. The result as of now is that Peking has a large section of the Asian Communist movement—along with Sihanouk—echoing its cry for "protracted war."

If the American and South Vietnamese incursions into Cambodia happen to extend the war and make it less susceptible to solution by negotiations, that could be just what Peking wants. Perhaps the situation now really is less susceptible to political solution. Sihanouk is denouncing the suggestion, hinted at not long ago by the Russians, of a new Geneva-type conference on Indochina. The "protracted war" cry also seems to dim chances for any talks.

Sihanouk is acting as if Peking owned him. His speeches in Peking, the base of his government-in-exile, sound like a replay of Mao's as he pledges Cambodia to "protracted war."

Nations "who love freedom and justice," says Sihanouk, have recognized his government. This suggests that those failing to recognize him are no better than the "imperialists."

The Russians and Soviet-camp nations have not recognized the exile government though Sihanouk has asked them to. It seems the Russians never trusted the mercurial Sihanouk and probably trust him even less now that he appears to be tucked into Mao's back pocket.

But Moscow wants to make points with Asia's Communists and thus may find itself forced to recognize Sihanouk. Russian diplomats then would have to leave Cambodia, perhaps not to return for a long time, while Sihanouk's allies carried out that "protracted war" with Peking's help.

Red China can consider it has

Crank Heads Conservation Group

At a meeting in Hope last Friday, May 22 Marion Crank of Foreman was elected chairman of the newly organized Southwest Arkansas Resource Conservation and Development project. County Judge Alfred Stinnett of Camden was elected vice-chairman and Louis Wilson of Magnolia was elected secretary-treasurer.

RC&D projects are a part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and their purposes are to conserve and develop the resources of the area to make a better place for people to live, work, and play. The Soil Conservation Service has been assigned the leadership responsibilities in this program.

Herman Wilson, an employee of the Soil Conservation Service, is the project coordinator and is headquartered in Hope. More than 50 leaders from the 12 county area attended the meeting. The project area includes Calhoun, Columbia, Dallas, Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Ouachita, Nevada, Sevier, and Union Counties.

Local people in attendance at the Hope meeting were George F. Brown, District Conservationist, County Judge Finis Odum, and Monroe Samuel, Moss Row, and Slomom Goodlett, members of the Board of Supervisors of the Hempstead County Soil and Water Conservation District.

City Manager Election Set for July 14

Several members of the Citizens Advisory Committee on housing met with the City Directors at their regular meeting Tuesday night with a request that the city take action to clean up or remove old dilapidated buildings.

Members of the committee had surveyed various sections of town and presented pictures of several old buildings that were neighborhood eye sores, and in some cases, fire and health hazards. The board of directors told the group that the city would follow up on the list of property they presented and would do all that was legally possible to help clean up these areas. Members of the committee who appeared were: Ferrell Williams, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee; Guy Griggs, former chairman; George (Boots) Smith, Mrs. Frank Yarbrough, Mrs. James Pruden, and Rev. Joseph T. Rowe.

The board of directors studied a request from Galen May that the city sell him one acre of ground in the Oakhaven area adjoining a small piece of land he owns that extends into the airport property. He wanted additional land for the purpose of constructing a hay storage facility and equipment. Mr. May recently sold the city an acre of land to provide for proposed water works installation in that area. The board agreed to file a request with the Federal Aviation Administration for permission to furnish the additional space to Mr. May.

The city directors reviewed an engineering report by John E. Hawkins & Associates on the problem of bringing water from Millwood Lake to Hope. The study had been ordered sometime ago by the Hope Water & Light Commission, who has reviewed the preliminary report and asked the engineering firm to make a study of the cost of operating the facility and treating the water. The engineering report included estimated cost of a water treating plant that would be necessary using the lake water. Members of the Board of Directors agreed to work with the Water & Light Commission on an overall study of Hope's water needs.

Mayor Douglas reported that a petition calling for a vote on reorganizing the city government to form a Mayor-council type of government had been checked and contained sufficient signatures to call for an election on the question. He issued

Whites of Military
Ask Separate School
in Washington Area

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is struggling with a potentially embarrassing proposal with admitted racial overtones over building a special school for children of military families because of violence in the nation's capital.

A House-approved bill now before the Senate authorizes the Air Force $2.3 million for an elementary school at Bolling Air Force Base for military dependents who are mostly white and now attend Washington's predominantly black schools.

Neither the Air Force nor the Defense Department asked for the money, written into the $2 billion military construction bill by the House Armed Services Committee. The House passed the measure last week.

The Military Parents Association, representing 1,800 children of military personnel at three government housing areas, lobbied in Congress for the new school.

They testified their young-

$110,514 Grants Made for Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday that grants totaling $110,514 have been approved to the Southwest Economic Development District for health planning services.

Arkansas counties that will benefit from the grants are Calhoun, Dallas, Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Nevada, Sebastian, Crawford, Cleveland, Logan, Polk and Scott.

Post Office Reform Gets Panel O.K.

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation intended to put the postal service on a more business-like basis, and largely divorced from politics, has won the approval of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

The Post Office Department would be replaced by an independent U.S. Postal Service run by a board of governors, who would select the Postmaster General and have authority to issue up to $10 billion in bonds for operating costs and capital improvements.

Postal rates no longer would be set by Congress. Instead, they would be set by a member rate-making commission, subject to review by the Postmaster General and the board of governors.

Also included in the reform measure is an 8 per cent pay raise for postal workers, but the committee took no action on President Nixon's request for a $1.5 billion increase in postal rates.

The only dissent came from Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex. Shortly before the committee acted yesterday, he predicted enactment of the legislation would lead to "enormous increases in postage rates and continued cuts in service."

Sen. Gale W. McGee, committee chairman, said he hoped a committee report on the bill would be ready late next week but expressed doubt the Senate would act on it until after the present impasse over a military sales bill is broken.

Vocational Ed. Hearing Is Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Education Department will hold a public hearing Monday on the agency's annual plan for vocational education.

The public hearing is required by federal law.

Dr. George Benson, Deputy Asst. Secretary of Defense for education, said Tuesday the Pentagon has not taken a stand on the school but hopes to come up with a position in a few days.

"Surely we sympathize with the Military Parents Association and realize that a very real problem is involved," Benson said. "On the other hand, the trend has been to reduce the number of schools operated by the military."

Benson acknowledged the racial overtones involved. "This is undoubtedly the case," he said. "We're part of the United States and certainly want our children to go to normal public schools," he added. "There is no desire on our part to make ourselves more independent."

In its testimony the Military Parents Association charged that Washington school officials have done little to protect their children.

Other Cities Slow to Go Along

The Hope Water and Light Commission met Friday afternoon, May 22nd, to review an engineering report by John E. Hawkins and Associates on bringing water from Millwood Dam into Hope.

The study was made on two alternate plans for delivering a maximum of 10 million gallons of water per day. One plan would build an intake and pump station at Millwood Dam with a pipeline to a water-treating plant in the Mt. Olive area and pumping treated water from that point into Hope. This plan would make it possible to sell treated water along the line, which would provide additional revenue. Four alternate routes were studied for the treated water line, but the report points out that the line should be located along the most populated route.

COST 6 MILLIONS
The water-treating plant proposed would handle only 5 million gallons per day but could be expanded in the future to a 10-million-gallon-per-day plant. Included in the overall plan was one million gallons of additional elevated storage and 4½ inch pipe line connections from the transmission line, which would be a 30 inch pipe, to connect into the existing water distribution system. Total estimated cost of the installation is $6,620,000.

An alternate plan was to build an outlet at Millwood Dam that would deliver water into Yellow Creek, with a small lake to be constructed in the McNab-Fulton area. Water would be picked up from this lake and pumped into a treating plant, with pumping equipment to pump the treated water into Hope. The treated water line would generally follow the highway into Hope.

The estimated cost of this development is $5,600,000. This route must be given further study, however, to determine what the additional water treating problems would be after the water had followed the open creek from Millwood to McNab.

The Southwest Water District has plans that were completed to bring water into the McNab-Fulton area when Champion Paper Company was considering locating in that area. If that facility had been developed it would have further reduced the cost to Hope by another million dollars. Since Champion Paper did not build in the area, the Southwest Water District has had other interested companies looking at the site but none of them have developed.

The Hope Water & Light Commission has been watching these developments because getting water to the McNab area would mean approximately two million dollars difference in the cost to Hope. The water district had plans prepared by the engineering firm of Brown & Root to construct a water distribution system from the McNab-Fulton area to serve Hope, Magnolia and several smaller communities. When the water district presented these plans to the areas, Hope was the only community that said it was ready to go. This joint distribution system would have saved Hope about half the cost of going alone. No other community indicated it was willing to pay its share of the cost. This distribution plan was worked out assuming that Champion Paper was going ahead with its plans. Hope has been in constant touch with all of the developments of the Southwest Arkansas District which is headed by George Peck as president, and which has two local men on the board of directors: Lloyd Spencer and Vincent Foster.

ON GOING ALONE
Since none of the plans of the Southwest Arkansas Water District has worked out, the Hope Water & Light Commission some
